LISA K. BLATT

New Work

January 16 – February 21, 2015
Opening Reception:
Friday, January 16, 2015 from 6 to 9 pm

Bruno David Gallery is delighted to present a special exhibition New Work by Lisa K Blatt.

Bruno David and Keri Robertson are pleased to present a new exhibition by San Francisco-based artist Lisa K. Blatt. Ms. Blatt's new work continues her exploration of perception and the intersection between nature and culture.

Blatt states "Landscapes attract me with their light, beauty, simplicity. I stay for their darkness, complexity, and secrets." Her work examines how landscape may be defined by what is not visible by what is memory or what is trace. This show marks Blatt's third solo exhibition with the gallery. In conjunction with the exhibition, Bruno David Gallery Publications will publish a catalog on the artist's work with an exhibition history and bibliography.

Lisa K. Blatt often works in extreme landscapes, including camping in the world's largest desert, Antarctica. Cindy Sherman chose and wrote about Blatt, when asked which one artist Sherman thought was doing groundbreaking work (Smithsonian Magazine, March 2012). Blatt's work has been exhibited on five continents (soon to be six) including at the Shanghai Biennial, China; the Havana Biennial, Cuba; Museo de Tigre, Buenos Aires, Argentina; Reykjavik Museum of Photography, Iceland; Wexner Center for the Arts, Ohio; Moderna Museet, Stockholm; Contemporary Art Platform and Freud Museum, London; Kunstverein Haus, Germany; Mills College Art Museum, Oakland; and Asian Art Museum, San Francisco, CA; and Phillips Collection.

Lisa K. Blatt has been awarded many grants and residencies including from: the National Science Foundation (Antarctica), NASA and Carnegie Mellon, the Kitteredge Foundation, the San Francisco Foundation, The Center for Land Use Interpretation, The Center for Cultural Innovation Creative Capacity Fund Grant, and the Djerassi Foundation. Her work is in public and private collections and was commissioned for the Sierra Fund's Tribute Trail in California and the J. Michael Bishop Art Collection at University of California, San Francisco.
